

Majuro needs energy storage project company

Overview

What is Japan's first energy storage project?

In 2015, we started Japan's first demonstration project covering energy storage connected to the power grid in the Koshikishima, Satsumasendai City, Kagoshima. This project is still operating in a stable manner today. One feature of our grid energy storage system is that it utilizes reused batteries from EVs.

When will Maibara-Koto energy storage plant be built?

Construction will begin in November 2024, with the commencement of operations scheduled for 2027. With a rated output of 134 MW and rated capacity of 548 MWh *2, Maibara-Koto Energy Storage Plant is a power grid *3 energy storage plant that will be constructed after ORIX bid and won at a long-term decarbonization energy auction.

How will energy storage contribute to decarbonization in 2024?

In 2024, we plan to invest our accumulated know-how into the operation of the first large-scale energy storage plant in Japan, to be located in Chitose, Hokkaido. Our grid energy storage business contributes to decarbonization from two major perspectives. First is the nationwide rollout of an energy storage platform.

How is Japan's energy storage landscape changing?

Japan's energy storage landscape is shifting, pushed by household demand, corporate ESG mandates, and domestic battery manufacturing. The residential lithium-ion market, projected to grow at a CAGR of 33.9% through 2030, remains one of the fastest-expanding segments.
