Morocco energy storage lead-acid battery

Overview

How is Morocco accelerating its energy transition?

Morocco is accelerating its energy transition by issuing a global call for expressions of interest to build two large-scale battery storage facilities. The projects are spearheaded by the Moroccan Agency for Sustainable Energy (MASEN) and Morocco's national electricity company ONEE.

Why should Morocco invest in lithium & electric batteries?

Thanks to its natural resources, advantageous geographical position and strategic partnerships with global players, Morocco aims to become a regional hub for sustainable technologies for Africa and Europe by investing heavily in the lithium and electric battery industry.

What is Morocco's energy storage testbed project?

The projects are spearheaded by the Moroccan Agency for Sustainable Energy (MASEN) and Morocco's national electricity company ONEE. On May 20, 2025, MASEN received financing approval from the World Bank for its "Morocco Energy Storage Testbed Project", aiming to enhance grid stability.

How is Morocco transforming the electric battery industry?

This success of the Moroccan automotive industry provides a solid foundation for new investments in the electric battery value chain to reach 400 billion dirhams by 2030. The country is consolidating its position as a leading player in the lithium and electric battery sector through ambitious projects with Asian and European partners.
