Overview

What are space based solar panels?

As its name, ROSA can roll up and form a compact cylinder. The flexible and rollable design allows the solar arrays to work the same way a measuring tape unwinds on its spool. Generally speaking, space-based solar panels are more durable than the conventional solar panels used in residential and commercial settings down on Earth.

Why are solar panels used in NASA's Space Telescope?

Silicon-based solar cells power many of NASA's spacecraft, including the James Webb Space Telescope. Learn more about why this abundant material is used in solar panels in this excerpt from NASA's Elements of Webb video series. Silicon is the go-to chip and sensor material for a reason: It works!.
