

Thailand wind and solar energy storage project

Overview

Are there grid-scale energy storage projects in Thailand?

There are currently few grid-scale energy storage projects in Thailand, although the situation is likely to change. In furtherance of its commitments under the Paris Agreement, the Thai government has enacted policies which envisage renewable energy accounting for the majority of grid capacity and output by 2040.

What percentage of Thailand's electricity is solar and wind?

Solar and wind power accounted for only 5.6% of Thailand's domestic electricity supply in 2024, BNEF estimates. BNEF's Net Zero Scenario shows that solar and wind can supply 60% of Thailand's electricity in 2050 while strengthening the country's energy security and eliminating emissions.

Is energy storage a new business model in Thailand?

Energy storage is in its infancy in Thailand, and new business models are already emerging. As the regulatory framework adapts to accommodate new players in the market, we expect to see greater penetration in this area.
