

What energy storage does the UK energy storage power station use

Overview

What are the UK's largest energy storage projects?

Bramley BESS (Hampshire): 100 MW / 331 MWh, currently the UK's largest energy storage project. Fidra Energy (Thorpe Marsh): A 1.4 GW / 3.1 GWh BESS being built on a former coal site. Copenhagen Infrastructure Partners (CIP): Two 500 MW / 3 GWh systems planned in Scotland.

What is a battery energy storage system?

Battery Energy Storage Systems (BESS): Battery energy storage infrastructure, currently dominated by lithium-ion, is essential for short-to-medium duration grid services, helping balance variable generation, regulate frequency, and offering rapid response grid support.

How many battery storage projects are there?

The pipeline of battery storage projects has continued to grow steadily again, from 84.4GW in December 2023 to 95.5GW in May 2024. This edition of the EnergyPulse report on Energy Storage shows there is 8.7GW of batteries in operation and under construction and more than 30GW projects have now been consented.

How much battery storage capacity is there in the UK?

Fig 1: There is over 440 GWh of battery storage capacity in the UK pipeline including 274 GWh (61%) at the pre-planning stage. Most of the projects are in the early stages: either announced by developers, included in the TEC register, or have screening/scoping applications submitted.
